The most interesting event happening locally this month is the launch of the latest quarter in the "America The Beautiful" series by the United States Mint. On Wednesday February 6th, the Massachusetts quarter featuring the Lowell National Historic Park will be released. The ceremony and coin exchange is open to the public. At 10:00 a.m., a 1-hour ceremony with dignitaries will commence, and afterward you can participate in the Coin Exchange. You can buy rolls of the new quarters on the first day of availability – up to 10 rolls, at face value. Details under Upcoming Events.

The evening before the Quarter Launch, the U.S. Mint will conduct a Coin Forum (February 5th at 6:30 p.m.). U.S. Mint officials will conduct a briefing and a Q&A session.

It appears that the U.S. Mint is unaffected by the Government shutdown - they get no funding from tax-payer money. The events should happen as scheduled.

If we hear otherwise, we will post on the website. Check www.worcestercoinclub.org before heading to the event!

As for our February meeting, our own Jack Haroian will give a presentation on Hobo Nickels and their relationship to this area. Should be a fascinating talk on an interesting side of numismatics.

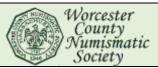

Hope to see you all on the 8th!

John and Mike

Coin in the Spotlight: 1849 No L Gold Dollar

The gold dollar was created in 1849 for three primary purposes. First was to deal with the large influx of California gold. Second was to provide a dollar coin for those who preferred a smaller gold coin instead of a large silver coin. The third, and perhaps the most pressing reason was to compete with independent minting companies that had been making private gold coins since the days of the Carolina and Georgia gold strikes in the 1830s, such as Bechtler.

Mintage of the 1849 gold dollar was healthy, but an obverse die was created, by mistake, without the initial L, for James B. Longacre, the designer of the coin. Longacre is most famous for his Indian cent.

Only 1,000 pieces were coined without an L. While they are highly sought and popular, they are not rare. As the first of the new series, many were saved in uncirculated condition and perhaps 500 examples (half the mintage!) still exist. The 1849 No L only has a modest premium over a normal 1849, so it is an excellent opportunity to own a truly low-mintage coin for an affordable price.
