> Deadline for next issue: November 24th

Anyone else feeling chilly? It was warm right up until the end of October, and now I feel like I'm reaching for my gloves each time I'm out the door. But you know what they say—don't like the weather? Wait five minutes…seems like summer isn't done with us yet.

This month, we've got a presentation on ancient coins given by our own WCNS member, Fred. But wait, there's more! At no added cost, our guest speaker will be doing a talk about the quarter dollar, as well. Two for the price of one, now that's a good deal!

Unfortunately, this month's YN program had to be cancelled, but all kiddos are still welcome to come to the main meeting. If you forget and show up early, take some time to check out the vendor tables and socialize. I know that when I was a kid, I loved ancient coins (I still do). It'll be more than worth going for just part one of the program! And of course, you don't have to be a kid to enjoy it!

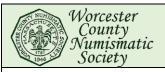

Stay warm! — Maria

Note on auction lots 30 to 33 (see p. 2)— These lots are Franklin Mint Coin Cards from the mid 1980's. Each features brilliant uncirculated coins from the respective country. They are mostly bronze and cupronickel. Some appear to be select uncirculated and one set is almost proof-like. Each sealed set also has a stamp and clear postmark from the country where the coins came from.
